Dear Applicant

Thank you for your interest in joining Healthwatch Gloucestershire in the role of Youth Engagement Officer.

This is an exciting opportunity for you to be involved in a new Young Listeners project. You will lead the project and recruit, train and support a team of 10 young listeners who will in turn engage with other children and young people from across Gloucestershire offering a peer to peer engagement approach. It will be a varied and interesting job and no two days will be the same. You will join a small staff team based in a comfortable office (with free parking) in Quedgeley.

Healthwatch Gloucestershire is part of Evolving Communities CIC, a community interest company which specialises in delivering high quality local Healthwatch services in Dorset, Gloucestershire, and Somerset. The company also delivers a range of consultancy services focused on providing local people with a strong voice in health and care.
